The Event

Ji-SBE is an initiative led by young scientists (PhD students or early-career postdocs) from the Spanish Biophysical Society. Launched this year, the initiative aims to foster collaboration and networking among early-career researchers.

The 1st Satellite Event of the XXVIII International Congress of the SBE is designed to provide young scientists with a platform to share their work, exchange ideas, and build meaningful connections. As the future leaders of Spain's scientific community, it is crucial to establish strong professional networks early in their careers.
